Cash Flow Management in the New Normal featuring Ken Yager

Description

We are living through unprecedented times of abrupt and major change. No one is unaffected by the rippling effects of this pandemic and the economic repercussions. Essentially, every business is now in transition, dealing with new and unexpected challenges. Furloughed staff. Employees working remotely. Temporary closings. Supply chain disruptions. We're seeing a cascade of financial challenges…and we don't yet know what recovery looks like or how quickly it will come. We are almost certainly facing a new normal for the foreseeable future.
